
Zayra Pola
“THE RISING STAR 2024”
National Puerto Rican Day Parade

Zayra Pola is an acclaimed singer-songwriter, producer, and multi-percussionist from Bayamón, Puerto Rico, known for breaking barriers and redefining the role of women in Latin music. As the first female percussionist to receive a full scholarship at the prestigious Berklee College of Music, Zayra has cemented her place in the industry with an impressive track record of achievements and high-level collaborations.

Her career includes work alongside Grammy-winning artists such as Bill Whelan and Terri Lyne Carrington, as well as performances with iconic figures like Gilberto Santa Rosa and Annie Lennox. Recognized for her excellence, Zayra has been awarded honors such as "Best Female Timbalera of the Year" at the New England Salsa Music Awards (2015) and "Salsera of the Year" at the Latin Boston USA Awards (2017).

In 2022, Zayra made her debut as a singer-songwriter and timbalera with her salsa album Te Va Gustar, a production that received critical acclaim and earned her a nomination at the Boston Music Awards for Best Latin Artist. That same album was included among the best musical productions of Puerto Rico in 2023 by the National Foundation for Popular Culture.

In 2023, Zayra took center stage in the tribute to Tito Puente Jr., accompanied by the Puerto Rico Philharmonic Orchestra, and was crowned "La Reina del Timbal" (The Queen of the Timbal). In 2024, her talent and trajectory were recognized by the prestigious Puerto Rican Day Parade in New York, where she was named Puerto Rico's Emerging Artist.

With a style that blends virtuosity, passion, and a unique connection with the audience, Zayra Pola has become an essential voice in Latin music. Her commitment to elevating female talent in the industry positions her as a revolutionary artist and a role model for new generations.
